ASSURANCES, AFFIRMATIONS, AND DECLARATIONS

Dear Trustees of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District,

We are committed to enhancing and strengthening students' foundational learning to increase the knowledge and skills of all learners. Our school is designed to improve student achievement while equipping students with essential skills necessary to be active and competitive leaders in 2030 and beyond. OCSCS proposes a curriculum to be rigorous, relevant, and contextually grounded in real world experiences, while immersing students in learning that draws upon relevant technological advancements and provides rich opportunities for unplugged collaboration.

This petition allows our school community the exciting opportunity to establish and solidify our thinking about educational responsibilities and possibilities. I present to you both a vision and comprehensive plan for our first five years of learning and teaching together. I very much appreciate your review and future support for the oversight of Orange County School of Computer Science (OCSCS) and its operations.

As we put forward this charter petition for consideration, OCSCS will operate independently from the existing PYLUSD structures in order to allow our charter school to apply innovative practices grounded in an evidence-base to target the increasing and shifting needs of learners. Through this conversion process we are able to maintain the district's origin of the school's location at 5350 Fairmont Blvd, Yorba Linda, CA 92886. While OCSCS will maintain the governance structure of PYLUSD, the role of the governing board of PYLUSD will be to ensure independent operation from the overall district operation. OCSCS will be indirectly funded and will receive its allocation on a passthrough basis through the school district. Although the design of our school addresses the needs of learners through flexible and innovative instructional design, delivery, and an alternative bell schedule, we are proud to remain within the PYLUSD boundaries. Below is a chart that will help you easily identify and contact the lead petitioner, as well as see the term of the charter, grade levels served, and capacity of enrollment:

Article 1 Initial Charter Petition:

Orange County School of Computer Science is committed to serving a diverse student body and is focused on the growth of student enrollment. OCSCS has the capacity to serve up to 1,000 students. In the initial year of implementation, OCSCS plans to allow for enrollment up to 600 students.

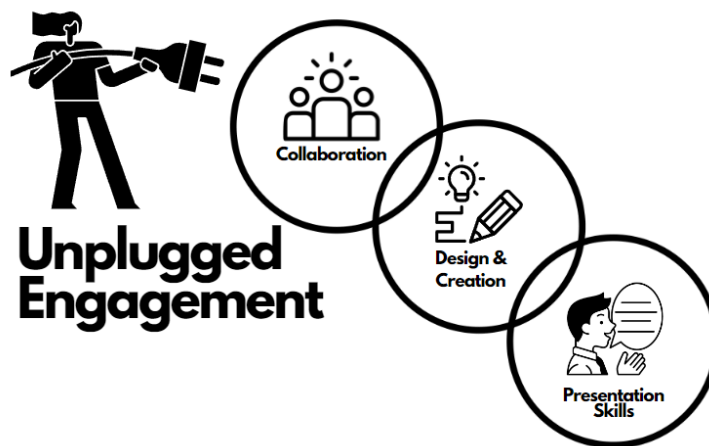

The surrounding community that OCSCS intends to serve has identified the need to address the foundational learning needs of all learners. This community faces the detrimental COVID-19 aftermath related to learning loss. The clearly identified learning deficiencies in the area of Mathematics and Language Arts has caused the community concern and a demand that our schools address these gaps while increasing opportunities for learners. OCSCS presents this charter petition as a means to address the needs identified by the community. This charter petition document will detail our strategic and innovative approach to both address learning gaps as well as provide students with the tools to navigate an ever-changing society. This focus will give students real world opportunities to engage with skills that will make them ready for 2030 and beyond.

OCSCS is submitting an initial charter application with the meaningful support of the permanent, nonpermanent certificated staff, and full time classified staff. Signatures were collected which indicated the teaching staff's support to bring forward this petition for review by the Placentia Yorba Linda Board of Education (see Appendix A). OCSCS obtained 71.4% of permanent staff signatures and 88.2% of total certificated staff for presenting this charter petition.

OCSCS shall be nonsectarian in its programs, admission policies, employment practices, and all other operations. It shall not charge tuition, and shall not discriminate against any student on the basis of actual or perceived disability, gender, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation or association with an individual who has any of the aforementioned characteristics. Admissions shall not be determined according to the place of residence of the student, or of his or her parent or guardian, within this state. When the number of applicants exceeds the number of available openings for a program, a public random drawing, as described under Element H: Admission Policies and Procedures, shall be conducted. Applicants not selected for enrollment in the public drawing may choose to be added to the wait list that is generated at the same time as the public random drawing.

Orange County School of Computer Science is seeking to be a conversion charter school within PYLUSD. Upon promotion from the OCSCS, all students will have bilingual proficiency and be conversant in both English and Computer Science.

Our world is ever-evolving and current school systems are failing to prepare students to be competitive in a technologically advanced world, lacking the framework to allow students to engage in design thinking with real world application. We propose an educational experience methodically designed to lead to foundational knowledge acquisition while equipping our students with the tools necessary to foster creativity and innovation while actively solving real world problems. We intentionally designed a learning model that utilizes technology as a vehicle for design thinking while providing opportunities for all students to engage with the world of technology that surrounds them while also leveraging the power of unplugged collaboration through active and ongoing student dialogue and collaboration that supports product design, prototyping, entrepreneurship, marketing, and presentation delivery.

Foundational skills are the bedrock with which our students will be taught, both in the areas of English Language Arts and writing, as well as in the diverse field of Mathematics. Our model acknowledges the limitations of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and addresses foundational learning gaps through the Singapore mathematics curriculum and foundational writing skills.

The OCSCS literacy curriculum delivered through our English Language Arts program will be specifically designed to meet the foundational needs of all learners.

These strategic program designs will prepare students to be competitive for A-G completion in high school and for participation in Advanced Placement (AP) or International Baccalaureate (IB) pathways. As students will be on the path to taking AP exams if they so choose, they will have the opportunity to take the AP Computer Science Principles examination prior to enrolling in high school. Students enrolled in our Dual Language Academy Program will have the opportunity to take the AP Spanish Language and Culture examination. These Advanced Placement exams will be offered on our campus annually each May during students' 8th grade year.

Every student will be engaged with core competency learning in reading and writing (English Language Arts), Mathematics, and Computer Science. Given the schoolwide focus in Computer Science, our English Language Arts, History Social Science, and Science courses will incorporate a learning focus that leverages the latest technological advancements such as how to effectively and appropriately utilize Artificial Intelligence (AI). Our Computer Science program will be integrated in History Social Science and Science courses. Additionally, all students will take technology-based elective courses: Computer Science, Computer Graphics (Art), and Esports.

Our Computer Science program promises to be among the most competitive in the nation, as we will have a partnership with Code To The Future, a nationally acclaimed leader for Computer Science Immersion. The immersive Computer Science approach fosters real world Computer Science applications allowing students to engage in core subject matter competencies in History Social Science and Science.

Because students optimally learn when challenged at their individualized levels, OCSCS utilizes competency and mastery-based learning which eliminates the need for leveled course offerings. Our school will proudly partner with top leaders in the educational profession, including Dr. Lee Ann Jung, as we engage in mastery learning and grading practices that best serve students with individualized learning differences. Mastery learning allows students to hone in on the specific skills needed to accomplish deeper levels of mastery in Mathematics, Literacy (reading, writing, speaking, and listening) and Computer Science.

As OCSCS implements a high level curriculum, all materials will go through the PYLUSD district approved curriculum approval process within the first three years of implementation of the program.

The design of our school intentionally provides students engagement with Core Competencies: Mathematics, English Language Arts, History and Science. In addition to providing the highest quality of foundational instruction, OCSCS has included embedded time in the school day to address learning needs (both in terms of intervention, enrichment, and advancement) through a Coordinated Small Group Instruction period. Every student will be provided an education in which written and verbal literacy, communication and numeracy is established throughout the curriculum, and in which a world perspective is provided through the lens of advancements and opportunities in Computer Science. The instructional materials and educational technology components complement our focus on curriculum, instruction and Computer Sciences development.

Recognizing that 21st Century Learning goes beyond students engaging with computers and devices, the OCSCS seeks to implement a variety of hands-on programs and activities that unplug students from technology and force them to explore the world experientially. Elective programs such as Inventions, Marketing, and Public Speaking will develop a well-rounded student equipped with skills necessary for future success in the world beyond PYLUSD.

As PYLUSD offers a Spanish Dual Language Academy (DLA at Glenview Elementary, OCSCS seeks to offer these Dual Language Academy students a continuation of courses at the middle school level. Given that OCSCS is the neighborhood school of attendance, students who matriculate from the Glenview Elementary DLA) program have the opportunity to continue their dual language education and experience through full instruction in Spanish in History Social Science, Science, and Spanish Literature. Students who did not matriculate through the Glenview Elementary DLA program must be admitted to OCSCS in order to be eligible to take an entry assessment that allows them to participate in the DLA program at OCSCS. If space is available, any student enrolled in another DLA program can express interest in enrollment in the OCSCS DLA program. If a student displays competency in the Spanish language through the OCSCS DLA program assessment then they will participate in the DLA course offerings. Note that if there is not adequate space and the lottery goes into effect for enrollment, then students must be selected via the lottery prior to taking the DLA Spanish proficiency assessment that provides access to the DLA courses.

Additionally, the focus of elective offering at OCSCS clearly supports Computer Science applications. Students will have an elective section focused on Graphic Design. As a Computer Science Immersion school, Computer Science principles will be immersed into the Graphic Design course. This specific Computer Science immersion can position students to take the AP Computer Science Principles exam should they desire. This elective will also feature opportunities for students to apply Stanford University's "Design Thinking" methodology for creative thinking and real world problem solving. The Graphic Art elective will support students' design sense and artistic creativity, while maintaining values of positive elements that build schoolwide culture such as developing the student yearbook and creating video production announcements. Students enrolled in this elective will engage in some aspect of design and develop a solid understanding of the principles and techniques used in computer graphics, which will enable them to create visually appealing and interactive digital content.

We believe that middle school students should have access to participate in Physical Education in order to support their understanding and application of physical fitness and healthy practices. Given that students have the opportunity to attend a double block of physical education on Tuesdays and Thursdays, a portion of the Physical Education block will be dedicated towards study skills. The feature of Study Skills will provide students with access to master self-management, self-organizational skills, and goal-setting. In addition, every student will develop the blueprint for an individualized, personalized educational experience complete with a six-year plan and annual benchmarks. During their two years at OCSCS, benchmarks will clarify and track academic and developmental growth and achievement. Students who are not interested in participating in Physical Education will have the opportunity to participate in the Music elective during this scheduled time each week.

DLA students will have a Spanish Literature elective offering. Students will engage with the Spanish language in the areas of reading, writing, speaking and listening. The Spanish DLA program utilizes curriculum from Inquiry by Design which engages students with both novels and informational texts. Students produce quarterly writing samples that target persuasive, narrative, expository, and descriptive writing in the Spanish language.

Because of the value for balance, experience, and the joy that music brings to students, the school will maintain an instrumental music program that includes options to participate in Orchestra, Band, and Jazz Band.

OCSCS will serve a student population that represents the diversity found in Orange County. We anticipate serving 45% of a population designated as low socioeconomically disadvantaged. OCSCS teachers will be highly qualified and fully credentialed. As we fundamentally believe in building teacher leaders especially in the area of full inclusion, we welcome intern teachers. It is our hope to expand growth opportunities for aspiring teachers beyond internships. The OCSCS budget will support considerable fiscal resources to support its annual professional development plan. Staff will have the opportunity to participate in professional learning opportunities such as Leading Edge certification which recognizes teachers and schools dedication to innovative and effective technology integration. The support for teachers to pursue National Board Certification will further demonstrate the commitment for learning as OCSCS proposes to become a leading professional development school in which opportunities for educators are realized.

OCSCS has also identified the need to continue to organize and operate as a school in ways that better advance student learning, performance, inclusion, and achievement. We believe in the tenets of inclusion and will serve all students to include those from traditionally under-performing subgroups as we strive to increase performance in any accountability system.

OCSCS will create a culture of achievement throughout the school with an uncompromising commitment to intentional and effective instructional delivery. Staff will offer functional access to the core competencies coupled with an integrated Computer Science themed experience. OCSCS' design will encourage students to think critically about real world problems and will provide opportunities for students to engage in design thinking about both addressing and creating solutions to the real world problems they explore related to making healthy lifestyle choices for themselves and the world. The Computer Science field is and will be a dominant force in modern society, addressed at both societal and individual levels. Computer Science will continue to impact each student’s personal and career choices. Its relevance as part of a world-class 21st century education cannot be ignored. Our culture, our instructional technologies and our foundational core and theme-based curriculum will engage our student body as active learners.

Traditional schools typically release students early or start school late to allow for teacher collaboration. Because the design of our school incorporates professional learning and development into the teaching schedule, students who attend OCSCS will attend five full days each week. There will be no minimum days or early/late release days. Students will follow the same start and end days as outlined on the PYLUSD student calendar. An additional difference between OCSCS and other PYLUSD schools is that an additional five non-student days have The student calendar can be viewed below.

Element A: The Educational Program

1. What does it mean to be educated in the 21 Century?

Democratic ideals and actions have always been at the root of American public schools. Our nation’s public school was founded in Jeffersonian concepts which in reality have far exceeded his dreams for the pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness. Additionally, the notion of school as a ground for civic engagement, informed decision making, and skills acquisition has grown beyond what our founding fathers and the key historical leaders of American public schools, like John Dewey envisioned. Schools have expanded in ways that produced competitive American citizens who make local and global impacts through learning and application of learning. While the roots of our American public schools remain, it is time to shift our focus to education in 2030. PYLUSD acknowledges the need to innovate at an accelerated level as referenced by the Superintendent of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Public School District, Dr. Alex Cherniss. In his “State of the District” address given in the fall of 2023 (click here to access), Dr. Cherniss discussed with stakeholders the ever-present need to prepare our students for a job market that is yet to exist. The research-based concepts at OCSCS encapsulates 21st century learning skills and clearly influences and delineates ways that allow us to prepare students for 2030 and beyond. The premise of this style of learning starts with what is referred to as “the compass” in which students acquire core competencies, skills, values and knowledge (OECD 2030). This compass embedded into OCSCS supports students to navigate unfamiliar contexts as our society is ever-evolving.

Another tenet of the 2030 learning model includes student agency. By providing students at OCSCS tools to positively influence their own lives and the lives around them, they will be leaders in our advancing society. Through the acquisition of foundational skills, students can apply these skills across cultures which continue to develop over time. In the 2030 learning framework, students grow from foundational skills to transformative competencies where innovation, collaboration, and responsibility meet to form action. As OCSCS is a Computer Science immersion school, the 2030 conceptual model accounts for the need for students to be digital and data literate at a core foundational level. This model also provides key knowledge and skill foundations such as disciplinary, subject-matter competency knowledge, transferring concepts through creation, projects, and action, and procedural knowledge to execute action. The ever changing skills-acquisition is at the focus of 2030 learning (OECD 2030). Using the 2030 learning framework as a model, OCSCS will allow students to adapt to, thrive in, and shape the future of our society.

2. Mission

Our mission is to improve student learning and achievement while equipping students with essential skills and attributes necessary to be active and competitive leaders in 2030 and beyond.

3. Educational Philosophy

Our learning framework is derived from a mastery learning experience that incorporates design-thinking and Computer Science immersion. The mastery learning foundations stem from the foundational work of Tom Guskey; however, our school will seek to hone into the educational philosophy work of Dr. Lee Ann Jung. In having mastery learning as a foundation for learning experiences, students have a clear pathway to both proficiency and mastery of core competencies in English Language Arts (reading, writing, speaking, and listening), mathematics, history social science and science. In history and science, our students have the opportunity for computer-science immersion experiences. In terms of design-thinking, through their computer science immersion elective, students have the opportunity to engage in elements of Stanford University's Design School. In combining these philosophies, it is our intention to provide students with the necessary tools to not only grasp and own their learning, but to also design applicable solutions to present and future real world problems.

It is also our educational philosophy that design thinking and mastery of core competencies requires more flexibility in scheduling and in our instructional approaches to learning. Implementing this philosophy requires further commitments to a high quality and well supported administration and staff, and continually advancing family, educational, community and business partnerships.

As students engage in hands-on learning experiences where they are asked to work in creative teams, we also plan to employ learning facilitators in the area of their electives. Students will receive initial larger group instruction in electives from a fully-credentialed teacher and then assigned small group learning facilitators who will monitor and assist with the creation of their design thinking projects, Esports tournament creations and facilitation and computer science designs.

As middle school is the time that students begin to explore and expand their independence, a study skills program is also at the core of our educational philosophy. As students develop, the areas of self-management and self-regulation are key to their current and future success. The study skills class will provide students with on-going explicit instruction and routines related to self-management and self-regulation.

Time for personalized education and support embedded into the school day is also a key foundational concept. OCSCS will employ Coordinated Small Group Instruction daily. The flexible design of the school schedule provides our teachers with daily time and one day each week to gather assessment data, consider the individual plan for each student, and to group students into appropriate learning groups that target intervention, enrichment, and/or advancement in their learning.

It is also our belief that the world is ever changing and that a significant redesign of instruction and incorporation of learning related to computer science is vital for students to remain competitive in a society that is anticipated to be revolutionized through further advancements in technologies not yet realized. Looking at changes in technology in the past 10 years, many could not have imagined the influence and probable impact of various technological advancements such as Artificial Intelligence (AI). OCSCS will teach our learners to engage with and positively leverage AI and equip students with the tools and coding languages to remain at the forefront of innovative advancements.

Our school solely serves students at the middle school level (grades 7 and 8), so high school requirements do not apply.

4. How Learning Best Occurs

As is consistent with what has been presented related to OCSCS' Educational Philosophy, learning best occurs through a clearly defined and delineated sequence of learning progressions that are tied to explicit learning intentions and success criteria. In making learning visible and clear to students, they have a distinct understanding of what they are expected to learn, how they are expected to demonstrate their learning, and why their learning is relevant and significant within any given subject. Students must be provided with on-going feedback that is tied to clearly articulated learning competencies. Mastery of learning should be explicitly spelled out in student friendly language so students have achievable outcomes related to displaying proficiency and mastery in subject matter. We ultimately believe that students learn best when they are the drivers of their learning and have hands-on and personalized learning experiences.

5. Curriculum and Instruction Design

As our schools are dealing with the aftermath and lingering effects of significant learning losses from COVID, OCSCS is focused on going beyond the core to ensure our students are provided with foundational learning in mathematics and English Language Arts instruction. According to the Policy Analysis for California Education (PACE),

Even before the COVID-19 pandemic, we and many others in the education research community were concerned that California's public schools weren't serving all students well. The state's education system was highly inequitable and plagued by gaps in opportunity and access that the pandemic has only widened. Last spring, a coalition of more than 40 California-based organizations representing families and students, educators and system leaders, research institutes, and civil rights and equity organizations called for education and policy leaders to reimagine and rebuild California's schools. But little progress has been made during the pandemic, with challenges driven by COVID-19 continuing to vex educators and policymakers, making real progress seem almost impossible. These test scores should sound a loudly screaming alarm: The task of transforming our schools can no longer be delayed (2022).

In this article entitled “California Test Scores Show the Devastating Impact of the Pandemic on Learning”, PACE identified that of the four primary areas of concern, math achievement is down dramatically in the 8th grade level. While the peer-reviewed literature related to the academic impacts of COVID are inevitably in process of analysis, it can be widely viewed through credible sources such as the Public Policy Institute of California, that the state of our educational system is in dire need of revision. Even before the pandemic, our students have waited long enough to engage in an educational system that equips them with the knowledge and skills needed to learn and lead in our ever-evolving society. A month after this petition is submitted, we propose that policy and data analysts across the nation will forecast even more significant findings after the official release of the 2023 Statewide CAASPP results.

Our mission is to provide every student with the opportunity to learn and lead transformational experiences that address the needs of our ever-changing society. Our charter school has identified the needs and has a systematic, evidenced-based way to address the challenges of the day related to failing Mathematics and Language Arts. While the focus of our field related to English Language Arts has been on the sharp decline at the 4th grade level, we recognize that a lack of foundational learning at the 4th grade level will only maximize the impact we experience at the middle school level.

As this is our call to action to not stand by and watch as we have ever pressing needs of students to face, we are proud to share our framework for learning. The core tenets of our framework include:

- Foundational curriculum that has an articulated scope and sequence to allow for on-going progress monitoring of students’ proficiency levels related to the articulated targeted areas of learning
- Flexible design of the school day to allow to maximize teacher’s design and delivery of an integrated and high level learning program
- Curriculum that is grounded in innovation
- Instruction that is grounded in a strong, leading, and innovative evidence-based practices
- Intentional mentorship and a targeted focus on building students’ self-management skills and goal setting

The scope and sequence of coursework will be individually tailored to meet the students’ interests and needs. Our English Language Arts curriculum will move students from the foundations of reading, writing, listening and speaking to the highest and deepest levels of application. Additionally, as our school is a computer science immersion school, students will be explicitly taught how to leverage Artificial Intelligence and other platforms in writing, planning, and problem-solving design.

The school’s flexible design will be an organizing principle that facilitates collaboration among teachers in the design and delivery of an integrated curriculum. Data will be used to continually inform our attempts to improve curriculum and instruction. Each student will develop project based learning projects through a design thinking approach such that they can make connections between their academic curricula and real world applications. Students will have multiple ways to be connected with teachers and other adults. Students will have tailored intervention and advancement opportunities as well as be mentored to support their academic progress and their intellectual and social maturation.

The curriculum, instruction, and professional development at OCSCS will be based on innovative approaches developed and tested by leading researchers and practitioners in the field of education. The curriculum will be delivered by expert educators who are highly qualified and credentialed. In addition to a very clear focus on content standards, we will provide our students a context of computer science and design thinking to ground their studies. The curriculum will be organized into big ideas and essential questions.

The table below provides a sample of units that can be offered through the Computer Science Immersion model and applied in History Social Science and Science. This is a concept design that could be subject to change depending on the needs of learners and how we connect History and Science instruction through the Computer Science Immersion model.

The tenets of Computer Science immersion through History and Science:

History Social Science *Computer Science Immersion	Science *Computer Science Immersion
Unit 1: Web Development	Unit 1: Block-Based Coding
Unit 2: Block-Based Coding	Unit 2: Python
Unit 3: App Building	Unit 3: Arduino (hardware / software)
*Between each unit, students will engage in an Epic Build Showcase where their work will be showcased and celebrated school-wide.

This innovative approach to curriculum will be complemented by an innovative and evidence-based approach to instruction. Given our targeted student population, literacy is an area of need. Our school will seek to partner with the chair for the International Literacy Association's Literacy Research Panel, Dr. Diane Lapp who is also a researcher and faculty member at San Diego State University to ensure our English language arts curriculum targets the learning needs of our students in English Language Arts.

Further, individualized and personalized instruction will occur through our flexible school design. The basis for our instructional innovation is the Gradual Release of Responsibility Model. We expect teachers to model their thinking, guide students' thinking, provide students opportunities to collaborate with peers and outside experts. As the Gradual Release of Responsibility Model supports the concept of the Zone of Proximal Development, we expect to see students assume increasing amounts of responsibility for content once it has been modeled and scaffolded by their teacher or knowledgeable others. There are opportunities for large and small groupings of students such that each student will assume increased responsibility for his or her learning following the modeling and support received from credentialed teachers.

The instructional materials and educational technology we employ complements our focus on curriculum, instruction, and computer science. All students will have access to textbooks. In addition, students will have access to primary source documents and texts in each discipline at the school such that students have opportunities to have choice in reading selections. The range of instructional materials students will interact with on a daily basis includes core textbooks, primary source documents, current informational texts, web sources, and a variety of digital and visual media. As a part of our partnership with Code to the Future, students will have a curriculum designed around the foundations of coding to include mastery and application of coding languages.

In terms of educational technology, students will use a wide range of equipment in their basic studies and computer science immersion experience. To ensure that they are prepared for this, OCSCS provides students access to such technology as wireless laptops, document cameras and data projectors, and hardware and software specific to computer science in all academic and elective courses.

As frameworks for learning need to drive our work, Tinto & Pusser (2006) identified the following framework which will serve as anchors for the work detailed in this section and sections to follow. This framework will guide our work related to moving this petition from thought to action:

Elements of a preliminary model of institutional action

Leaders that are goal-focused and relationship-oriented allow for collaborative, driven staff to work together on commonly- owned goals to ensure that these structures are in place:

1. Conscious, explicit efforts to create a school community that includes all students.
2. Use of structures to increase awareness of school and student contexts, and a willingness to dedicate time, resources, and personnel to meeting as many needs of their students as feasible, including building trust and involvement with families.
3. Adjusting instructional techniques and programs to data gathered about students via the aforementioned themes and formal data-based decision-making processes.

We are proud to present to you a framework that is systematic in design and has been identified to meet the current needs of our failing education system and will continue to detail below how we plan to address specifically the unique and varied needs of our learners.

6. Target Student Population

OCSCS targets a range of learners that is reflective of the diversity of Orange County related to socioeconomic backgrounds, educational interests, cultures, and learning challenges. As OCSCS serves the middle school levels, we plan to offer an educational program that targets the 6th, 7th and 8th grades. In our first year, we plan to serve 600 students and have the capacity to serve up to 1,000 students. It is our intention to equip students to be both learners and leaders in an ever-changing society, providing them with tools to thrive in 2030 and beyond. We recognize that COVID-19 has posed additional challenges which has resulted in significant learning and social gaps. Our education program has intentional design to address these needs and accelerate student learning while providing students with the opportunities to acquire real world applicable skills.

7. Plan for Students Who Are Academically Low Achieving

Students who are academically low achieving will benefit from a rigorous, educational program and be identified and supported through assessment, curriculum, differentiated instruction, and individualized intervention services through our coordinated small group instruction model and a study skills approach. Student needs will be identified and reviewed annually as part of the LCAP process such that goals, programs and resources can be publically developed and purposefully focused on resources to support their learning. All core classes will be untracked and heterogeneously grouped so that all students can participate in academically challenging coursework. There is strong evidence that low-achieving students perform better in college preparatory coursework than their similarly achieving peers in remedial courses (Nystrand & Gamoran, 1997; National Center for Education Statistics, 2001).

Teachers of all courses at OCSCS will receive extensive professional development and coaching related to applying the principles of differentiated instruction and mastery learning with a commitment to support all students, including those that are low achieving.

Specialized Intervention: Due to the flexible design model of our school, students will have the opportunity to be grouped according to on-going academic assessments in the areas of Mathematics and English Language Arts. Once again, as part of the annual LCAP review and development process, needed specialized interventions will be identified. School-wide assessment protocols ensure that student progress is monitored regularly. Formal and informal assessments will be regularly administered to all students in order to gauge progress. Our flexible schedule model allows adequate time to both deliver on-going assessments of and for student learning and then tailor instruction and academic intervention to meet the needs of a diverse body of learners.

8. Plan for Students Who Are Academically High Achieving

All students will engage in a rigorous, beyond standards-based educational program. This is no different for high-achieving students. At OCSCS, teachers are to be fully informed about each student's academic abilities and progress through on-going formative assessments, and will use that data to provide precise instructional support for every student. OCSCS' flexible school design and research-driven educational staff ensures our plans and abilities to provide precision teaching for the benefit of both low-achieving and high-achieving students.

Although students are grouped heterogeneously in classes, we offer honors credit in each of our core courses at OCSCS. Honors credit is awarded based on students' successful completion of an individualized honors contract. All students are eligible for honors credit. It is our expectation that students identified as gifted and talented will complete honors-level work. Honors contracts are developed during the first four weeks of attendance and are signed by the student, the instructor, a parent/guardian, and an administrator. When a student completes the terms of the contract, his or her transcript reflects the fact that their work was honors level. We recognize that both high schools and colleges appreciate this distinction of academic excellence and are known to weigh this information in their admission decisions. There are a number of characteristics of honors-level work. These include:

- Additional readings chosen to enhance and deepen the student's understanding of course content
- Guided research involving specialized library resources, fieldwork or community projects
- Extra written work designed to develop critical skills and independent thinking
- Regular individualized meetings with the instructor to discuss the progress of the various projects undertaken to fulfill the contract

Some high achieving students benefit from a faster-paced and wider honors course contract in history or literature. Similarly, high-achieving students will thrive in learning environments that allow them to apply their knowledge and skills through the creation of design thinking computer science projects. Additionally, students will have the opportunity to take the AP examination in Computer Science Principles.

9. Plan for English Learners

English learners face daunting challenges. They must learn the components of the English language at the same time as they are mastering grade level subject matter content. They will do this all the while competing with native-English speaking peers who are rapidly increasing their knowledge of the English language and applying that knowledge to the content standards. English learners need highly qualified teachers, rigorous and engaging curriculum, and purposeful instruction. OCSCS' curriculum is based on the ideas of differentiation and application, as students will have multiple opportunities to apply what they learn in a variety of educational settings. For English learners, OCSCS provides a content-based EL program. In addition to using a wide variety of instructional strategies and multiple informational sources, teachers draw on the EL components of state-approved textbooks. During whole class instruction, teachers engage students by using thematic planning and SDAIE strategies. Manipulatives, visuals, graphic organizers, shared readings, note taking, and interactive communications are just a few of the ways teachers create an educational environment that fosters language acquisition through content-based lessons.

Once again, it is the annual review and development of the LCAP that will examine the performance of both English language learners and formerly re-designated students in order to focus goals, programs and resources designed to accelerate student performance. Small group instruction is also provided in each subject area as content teachers and reading specialists work together to ensure continued learning for English learners. Teachers, as a function of their CLAD or BCLAD certifications, focus on differentiating classroom materials and instruction using SDAIE methods in a predominantly English speaking setting.

In addition, OCSCS provides English Language Development specialists (credentialed teachers) who work one-on-one with students to ensure that beginning and early intermediate English speakers progress at an accelerated rate. Push-in services are provided in classrooms rather than pull out programs. OCSCS is able to accomplish this with the extended amount of time provided in each subject area and at each grade-level. OCSCS offers very few electives, and those that are offered focus on and are embedded with computer science or technological opportunities. The result is significantly more time spent in core content classes in which ELD instruction can be provided.

OCSCS offers Coordinated Small Group Instruction which features screening tools and progress monitoring assessments. In essence, students not making reasonable progress are scheduled for additional learning time. Ultimately, OCSCS supports students to become thriving, self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners.

EL Program Overview: The instructional program for English language learners at OCSCS is annually reviewed and refocused as part of the LCAP process. Our program is multifaceted, based on assessment data and student experience, and aligned with state standards both in content and English language development. More specifically, OCSCS teachers will provide English language learners adaptations in content instruction to ensure comprehensibility and authentic access to the core curriculum. These include:

- Explicit teaching of key content vocabulary through labeling of pertinent diagrams, charts, equations
- Frontloading language needed to engage in the upcoming content lesson (to categorize, hypothesize, explain, etc.)
- Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) techniques
- Frequent, clear, and supportive feedback of efficacy with specific direction on next instructional steps (what I will do; what you will do)
- Partnership in regular data analysis of their own work using quality work criteria (e.g., rubrics) for self-assessment
- Coordinated Small Group Instruction with a credentialed teacher

- English Learners are not a monolithic group and thus will receive differentiated instruction according to their identified strengths and needs.

OCSCS teachers will become informed about a student’s educational background and use assessment data for framing instructional decisions. Our commitment will ensure students receive an effective ELD and/or intervention program and move into the inclusive instructional program and experience academic success as quickly as possible. We are also committed to ensuring that English Learners are not placed in remedial or low level content classes based on their knowledge of English, but rather at the highest level course possible based on their instructional level in that content. We have identified specific needs and the types of intervention to provide for EL students.

10. Plan for Special Education

“Students with disabilities who attend public charter schools and their parents retain all rights” including the right to a free appropriate education (FAPE) in the least restrictive environment (LRE) [CRF 300.209 (a)]. Additionally, these students can expect access to appropriate special education and related services. As a public charter school, OCSCS is responsible for ensuring that the requirements of Part B of IDEA 2004 are met [CRF 300.209 (i)]. OCSCS complies with all State and Federal laws for special education including Child Search/Find efforts. These efforts will include:

1. The establishment of a Student Study Team process to exhaust all general education alternatives before a referral to Special Education is made
2. The inclusion of testing procedures and the evaluation thereof which allows for the pre-identification of children with disabilities, including a responsiveness-to-instruction and intervention (RtI2) model of proactive support and determination of specific learning disabilities
3. Annual inservice for faculty regarding the identification of children with disabilities
4. Annual and on-going inservice for faculty regarding inclusive practices, instructional design, and support

Initial identification follows the state guidelines for referral for testing beginning with Student-Study Team recommendations for curricular or behavioral accommodations. We acknowledge that if a student’s needs warrant such a referral, that referral for special education may be made directly without proceeding through the SST process. In addition, a responsiveness to intervention and instruction (RtI2) model will be crucial in reducing the need for special education referrals, and for collecting and analyzing data for the purposes of improving instruction, assessing progress, and measuring responsiveness to intervention. Students who continue to struggle will be referred to the SELPA personnel for testing and evaluation, and the information collected through these practices will be essential. An IEP will be developed for students who qualify for special education supports and services, in compliance with all provisions in IDEA 2004 (Section 300, Part B).

OCSCS will utilize the RtI2 model (a model of multi-tiered system of support). This three-tiered model of intervention begins with the research-based general education classroom instruction all students participate in as part of their English Language arts, history social science, science, computer science and mathematics curricula. Students who are not progressing also participate in Tier 2 support (small-group supplemental instruction) in addition to their Tier 1 curriculum. Data is collected to monitor their progress and continuously analyzed to improve instruction. This necessitates the close collaboration of special and general educators, who will work within the classroom to design and deliver Tier 2 instruction and assessment. Students who continue to exhibit significantly low achievement, and insufficient response to intervention will receive Tier 3 intensive instruction. This includes daily one-to-one specially designed instruction through the push-in model, and weekly assessment for progress monitoring. Students who have not responded to the tiers of intervention may be considered for an assessment for special education and related services under any of the appropriate eligibility criteria.

Our model of collaborative teaching has positioned OCSCS general and special education staff in an ideal environment for meeting the needs of our special education students, as well as those who are participating in RtI2.

In addition, OCSCS' overall philosophy of small-group and individualized teaching ensures that these processes for supporting special education students are not disconnected from the general education curriculum and instruction. We will seek to work with one of the leading researchers in the field related to special education and inclusion, Dr. Lee Ann Jung. Within the first year of implementation our staff will receive professional development and support from Dr. Jung.

Families seeking an inclusive educational environment will be encouraged to consider OCSCS regardless of the nature or severity of the student's disabilities. OCSCS will continue to offer a continuum of services as special education is not a place. It is a service. We expect the percentage of students with IEPs enrolled at OCSCS to reflect the proportion of persons with disabilities in the general public and the school district. In 2023-2024, 10.5% of the school's population that OCSCS is converting to had active IEPs and were supported in our fully inclusive school program.

We are committed to working to appropriately search, identify, and provide support and services such that students with identified special education needs are included and thrive at OCSCS. The special education team, which includes but is not limited to our site-based school psychologist and Education Specialists, will conduct assessments for Special Education services in accordance with legal obligations set forth by IDEA. Access to general education curriculum and special education supports and services is crucial for students with identified disabilities. Therefore, special education at OCSCS will continue to be delivered through teams led by credentialed special educators with expertise in inclusive practices. As a PYLUSD affiliated charter school, the school plans to operate as a school of the district for the purpose of Special Education under the LEA PYLUSD which is a member of Northeast Orange County SELPA. OCSCS will continue to utilize existing PYLUSD resources and employees to provide special education support and services detailed in each student's IEP. Related services (e.g., speech and language pathology, occupational therapy, vision therapy, adaptive physical education, etc.) are provided through PYLUSD service providers.

Students will benefit from having a special educator readily available and knowledgeable in the content and the unique support strategies effective for students with disabilities. A Triangle of Supports articulating the needed curricular accommodations, assistive and augmentative technology, and personal supports will guide IEP development, and ensure that general education curriculum and special education supports and services are seamlessly delivered.

As a school of the district, OCSCS will fall under the leadership of Northeast Orange County SELPA, which includes PYLUSD and Brea-Olinda Unified School districts.

OCSCS shall comply with all programmatic and legal obligations for services for students with disabilities. This includes the following:

- Initial Identification and Reevaluation
- Parents and public agency requests for initial evaluation [CRF 300.301 (b)]
- Initial evaluations conducted within 60 days of signed parental consent for evaluation [CRF 300.301 (c)]
- Reevaluations at least once every three years [CRF 300.303 (a)]
- Evaluation before any change in eligibility [CRF 300.305 (e)]

Individualized Education Plans (IEP)

- Development of the IEP team, including general education teachers, administrators, and the student in accordance with person-centered planning [CRF 300.321 (a)]
- Informing parents of the IEP team members [CRF 300.322 (b) 1]
- Post-secondary goals and transition services [CRF 300.320 (b)]
- Ensuring that the IEP is accessible to those responsible for implementation [CRF 300.323 (d)]
- Annually review and tri-annual evaluations [CRF 300.305 (a)]
- Transferring of rights upon age of majority [CRF 300.320 (c)]
- Notification of rights and procedural safeguards [CRF 300.504]

IDEA grants families receiving Special Education services the opportunity to present and resolve complaints. IDEA grants parents an opportunity to present and resolve complaints with respect to any matter relating to the identification, evaluation or educational placement of their child or the provision of a free appropriate public education to their child. Written complaints may be filed with the school district or the state or federal agencies.

Student progress will be monitored using a response to intervention (RtI2) model consistent with the school-wide approach detailed in our common assessment process (looking at student work and students at work). As with other areas of need at OCSCS, professional development for special educators will focus on student work. Leaders in the educational field will provide regular guidance, support, mentoring, and professional development to the entire OCSCS staff, including the special education teachers.

Element B: Measurable Student Outcomes

Our state relies on the Smarter Balanced Assessment that tests the California State Standards. English learners will continue to take the English Language Proficiency for California (ELPAC). We will continue to target and measure reclassification rates for English Learners. While we plan to still administer this summative assessment, we recognize that this is a short-sighted approach to measuring student progress and outcomes. OCSCS will employ a multi-measure approach to include quarterly benchmarks within the core competencies, a writing assessment midway through the school year, and students will participate in interim assessment benchmarks. We will consider additional benchmark achievements including but not limited to the “Schools to Watch” designation. OCSCS will adhere to PYLUSD testing calendars and procedures for state mandated tests. We will participate in an annual district site review of programs during which PYLUSD staff compare data from sites that students would have attended to measure our progress against the designated school of attendance. Additionally, we plan to utilize the Demographically Similar Schools from California Charter Schools Association to measure our progress against schools with similar demographics.

Element C: Methods for Measuring Outcomes and Other Use of Data

OCSCS is committed to focus programs, services and resources on the expected annual measurable objectives that will be specified through our LCAP. We take responsibility to adjust resources and programs when expected outcomes are not met. When performance data identifies new unmet needs, we will produce new annual measurable outcomes. The following goals and measurable objectives will guide our efforts through our initial charter petition.

Goal 1: OCSCS will accelerate student achievement through high quality instruction, systematic attendance monitoring, enrollment in a broad course of study, and participation in expanded academic and non-academic opportunities that includes study skills (self-management/self-regulatory) development. Note: CAASPP Comparison rates were determined based-on the school that OCSCS converted and formerly known as Bernardo Yorba Middle School.

Expected Annual Outcome

1. Increase CAASPP ELA proficiency (meet and exceed standards) in year 1 from 55.8% to 58%. Then each year after we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - a. For English Learners increase proficiency in ELA in year 1 from 0% to 5%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - b. For Socioeconomically Disadvantaged students increase proficiency in ELA in year 1 from 39.81% to 42%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - c. For Students with Identified Disabilities increase proficiency in ELA in year 1 from 18.75% to 20%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
2. Increase CAASPP Math proficiency (meet and exceed standards) from 48.28% to 51%. Then each year after we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - a. For English Learners increase proficiency in Math in year 1 from 11.1% to 13%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - b. For Socioeconomically Disadvantaged students increase proficiency in ELA in year 1 from 34.60% to 37%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - c. For Students with Identified Disabilities increase proficiency in ELA in year 1 from 16.67% to 18%. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
3. Establish a baseline of at least 60% of students scoring “proficient” on the OCSCS annual writing benchmark exam. Then each year we will target an annual 2% growth.
 - a. Given we currently do not have baseline data available for Long Term English Learners, McKinney Vento or Foster youth, we want to target the levels of proficiencies within these groups on the writing benchmark exam to show at least 40% of students within this category as proficient on our annual writing benchmark assessment.
4. Increase the percentage of student growth annually by 2% on each sub-domain (reading, writing, speaking, and listening) on the ELPAC.
5. Maintain a minimum of 89% attendance. We expect to improve up to a 94% attendance rate within 5 years.

Goal 2: OCSCS will maintain a welcoming, inclusive climate and culture that honors student voice and family perspectives.

Expected Annual Outcome	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Establish membership in an OCSCS parent leadership team of at least 20 parents. Increase our parent leadership team by 5 parents each year annually. 2. Establish attendance of parent academies such that 30% of families attend an academy each year. 3. Increase student perspective of being valued to at least 80% as measured on the PYLUSD annual stakeholder survey. 4. Establish the percentage of students who are involved in at least one extra-curricular activity to at least 50%. 5. Establish student perspective of the climate of OCSCS by increasing the overall PYLUSD annual stakeholder survey by 3%.
Goal 3: OCSCS will maintain a fully credentialed instructional staff, with allowances for intern teachers in high needs areas such as but not limited to Special Education, who will deliver high quality content in a clean, safe, functional school facility.
Expected Annual Outcome	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Teachers (100%) will engage in at least 20 hours of professional learning each year. 2. At least 10% of the teaching staff will hold Leading Edge certification (currently 0%). 3. The buildings/facilities meet required operating standards. 4. Provide 100% of students with access to books and materials that are related to the appropriate content standards.

As a district affiliated charter, we will participate in the larger LCAP process for PYLUSD, however, will develop and present a separate LCAP for OCSCS. As we engage in the LCAP process annually with the district we will use the following guiding questions:

1. How do the actions/services address the needs of all students and did the implementation of those services result in the desired outcomes?
2. How do the actions/services address the needs of all subgroups of pupils identified pursuant to Education Code section 52052, including, but not limited to, English learners, low-income pupils, and foster youth; and did the services implemented in those actions result in the desired outcomes?
3. How do the actions/services address the identified needs and goals of our specific school site and were these actions/services effective in achieving the desired outcomes?
4. What information (e.g., quantitative and qualitative data/metrics) was examined to review progress toward goals in the annual update?
5. What progress has been achieved toward the goal and expected measurable outcome(s)? How effective were the actions and services in making progress toward the goal? What changes to goals, actions, services, and expenditures are being made in the LCAP as a result of the review of progress and assessment of the effectiveness of the actions and services?

6. What differences are there between budgeted expenditures and estimated actual annual expenditures? What are the reasons for any differences?

Element D: Governance Structure

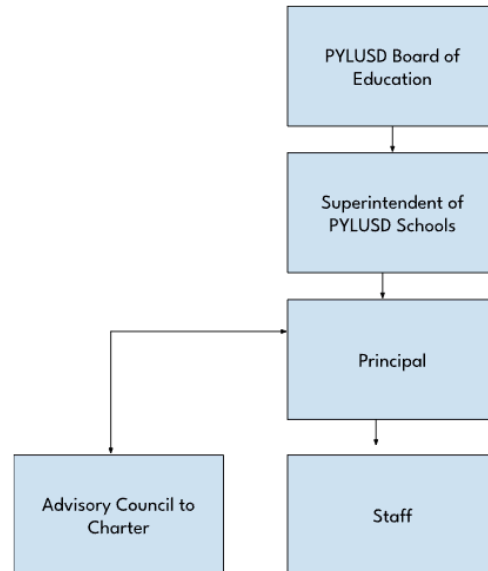

Founding Principle: The governance of Orange County School of Computer Science will be a working model for the mission of OCSCS, serving all of its members as a significant and impactful learning tool. Thus, school governance will be an integral and essential component of the school's curriculum and its purpose as a learning organization.

General Governance Structure: Given that OCSCS is a district affiliated charter school, similar to other PYLUSD schools and programs, the PYLUSD Board of Education will serve as the governing board of Orange County School of Computer Science. The PYLUSD Board of Education works collaboratively with the Superintendent of PYLUSD to oversee the governance of OCSCS. The governing board and superintendent will be responsible for:

- Hiring and evaluating the principal of the school.
- Approving and monitoring the implementation of general policies of the school.
 - These will include effective human resource policies for career growth and compensation of the staff.
- Developing and monitoring an operational business plan that focuses on student achievement.
- Approving and monitoring the school's annual budget.
- Contracting an external auditor to produce an annual financial audit according to generally accepted accounting practices.
- Contracting with an educational management organization, if deemed appropriate.
- Regularly measuring progress of both student and staff performance.
- Involving parents and the community in the support of school programs.

Because OCSCS is under the governance of the PYLUSD Board of Education, the Board Meetings will be regularly scheduled on a monthly basis per the PYLUSD board meeting schedule. The PYLUSD Board meetings are held every 2nd Tuesday of the month. As the Superintendent and the Board appoint the principal of the school, the principal will be tasked with forming an advisory council to support and advise the principal.

The following is the organizational chart:

Ultimately, all decisions related to the school will be made by the OCSCS Principal. The Principal will seek guidance from the OCSCS Advisory Council, but ultimately all decisions are the final decision of the Principal. Given that OCSCS has an Advisory Council, OCSCS will not convene a school site council. Annual goals, recommendations, on-going feedback and stakeholder engagement will be conducted by the OCSCS Advisory Council in lieu of the School Site Council.

OCSCS will continue to convene the English Language Advisory Committee (ELAC). The purpose of ELAC is to ensure that our English Learner Stakeholders have the opportunity to gain an understanding and engage in a feedback back process that allows an on-going relationship with the school related to meeting the unique needs of English Learners. ELAC is intended to empower families with knowledge related to the English Learner program offered at OCSCS, engage discussion around family and school support, and to welcome families into the progress monitoring process.

OCSCS’ Site Administrative Team. Every adult at the school will have some level of appropriate formal and informal instructional, tutoring and mentoring involvement with students. This is particularly important as it relates to the roles and responsibilities, philosophy and credibility of every member of the administration team.

OCSCS’ current Site Administrative Team includes:

- Mrs. Beth Fisher, site Principal. The principal will be responsible for day-to-day operations of the school program and facility. She will coordinate annual evaluations of staff and manage an ongoing plan of classroom observation, professional development, data analysis and decision-making. No site activity (to include but not limited to service, research, partnership, budget, program, intervention) will be initiated or occur without Mrs. Fisher's knowledge and input. Mrs. Fisher will regularly meet and work with students, parents and community members as integral partners in student success.
- Mrs. Rachael Collins, site Assistant Principal. Mrs. Collins is responsible for implementing a positive school-wide behavior expectations program and developing a clear site discipline plan that supports students with reflective and restorative behavioral learning. Mrs. Collins will support the Principal, Mrs. Fisher, in staff evaluations. In addition, she oversees staff responsible for the physical plan, counseling and Associate Clinical Social Worker and/or Licensed Clinical Social Worker employees, student government, and the athletic program. Mrs. Collins will report to Mrs. Fisher, site Principal.

Orange County School of Computer Science Advisory Council: OCSCS' Advisory Council members were appointed based on their past or current role as a parent or community member in the surrounding school community, professional expertise in organization, youth development, management, and/or Computer Sciences and careers. Additionally, current teachers have been selected by the principal to serve on the Advisory Council. Finally, because our work centers around serving students, student representatives will be appointed to the council. The Charter Advisory Council will review the charter's plans, programs, and performance reports with respect to the school's vision and mission and to review how all required responsibilities are properly executed. The decision making-model that will be used throughout the governance structure will primarily be collaborative in nature. The intent will be inclusive; providing voice throughout the organization. Advisory Council appointments shall run annually with an allowance of renewed appointments. OCSCS has a vested interest in making connections within the greater society and will allow business professionals, professionals within the Computer Science or other technology related fields to sit on the Advisory Council, as they will have access to participate via Zoom. While the Advisory Council will have the opportunity to review the operations of the school, ultimately the PYLUSD Board of Education will have the final voice in all appropriate organizational policies. At the time of the petition, the following members have been appointed by the principal to serve on the inaugural Advisory Council. Please note that the following representatives are preliminary members and final appointments will be determined once the charter has been approved and OCSCS begins enrollment. The principal is the one to appoint members of the Advisory Council and maintains sole discretion of who serves on the advisory council. Terms of serving on the Advisory Council are annual and members can be re-appointed. The following is an initial list of the members of the OCSCS Advisory Council, including the areas they represent:

- Mr. Phil Seitz, founding teacher leader of OCSCS
- Mr. Isaias Campuzano, founding teacher leader of OCSCS
- Ms. Michele Daetweiler, founding teacher leader of OCSCS
- Ms. Emily Murray, founding teacher leader of OCSCS
- Mr. Allen Goddard, founding teacher leader of OCSCS
- Mrs. Julie Masone, founding teacher of OCSCS
- Ms. Sara Gonzalez, founding classified leader of OCSCS and community liaison
- Mrs. Jocelyn Brodowski, community parent and advocate for inclusion
- Mr. Steve Vartanian, former parent volunteer, youth sports coach, local realtor, and long time Yorba Linda resident
- Mrs. April Gavrilovich, parent of an OCSCS student
- Mrs. Erica Perez, parent of an OCSCS student
- Mr. Gary Farrell, parent of an OCSCS student

Element E: Qualifications of School Employees

Teachers. Faculty members are fully credentialed teachers. OCSCS will allow for intern teachers in high needs areas such as but not limited to Special Education. Every attempt is made to ensure that teachers and administrators are fully qualified. A focus of our school is to ensure the highest quality teachers. In the next five years, we are going to increase the number of teachers who hold advanced degrees and/or hold specialized certifications. In addition to ensuring compliance with state and local hiring laws and mandatory clearances such as fingerprinting and TB tests, the plan for selecting and hiring additional and future teachers will be based on an application which identifies an individual's credential as highly qualified in their content area. Our selection process includes potential observations of each individual's current teaching by a team of administrators, teachers and students, the review of a beyond standards-based lesson plan within the context of Computer Science, an interview and formal presentation, and positive reference checks.

Coaching and mentoring of beginning credentialed teachers is encouraged and practiced through the school's participation in the PYLUSD new teacher induction program. All new teachers participate in two years of induction, in which they receive intensive support from experienced teachers who guide them in reflection, evaluation, peer observations, and goal setting. Veteran teachers provide additional support informally. Our administrative team will hold new teacher meetings regularly to provide further professional development on instructional, curricular, and classroom management practices. Because the turnover rate among teachers is low, we have been able to cultivate a growing level of expertise among the faculty.

Teacher monitoring is based on classroom observations (both formal and informal) that occur several times each year. OCSCS will follow the negotiated APLE union contract related to observation cycles.

OCSCS' leadership encourages staff to continue their formal professional development. As a standard practice, school leaders meet with individual staff to discuss graduate degree programs that will increase their subject area and teaching mastery.

OCSCS provides professional development monthly. In-house staff development includes developing special education accommodations and modifications, restorative practices, using technology in the 21st century, and a gradual release of responsibility instructional framework. OCSCS' administrators and teachers present all of these staff development opportunities. We invite some of our outside consultants and coaches to participate alongside us in our learning as well.

The Teachers will:

- implement curriculum and instruction
- provide counseling and mentorship assistance for specific students
- monitor student achievement and regularly report to parents
- participate in extracurricular activities for the pupils of the school
- engage in a personal professional development plan
- perform other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- valid California Teaching Credential demonstrating subject matter expertise
- evidence of effective communication skills
- demonstrate knowledge of research-based practices

Administrators. The Site Administrative Team at OCSCS includes a Principal and Assistant Principal. The administrative team will provide leadership, vision, and strategic direction for school functions, including instruction, accountability, partnerships, facilities management, and community relations. The administrative team takes responsibility for improving and implementing school changes with input from the faculty and staff. These initiatives are based on identified student needs, faculty initiative, and/or administrative directives. As we continue to grow, we will look for opportunities to add additional administrative support (see Appendix C).

Counselors. There will be two types of counseling services provided at Orange County School of Computer Science (OCSCS): A schoolwide counselor who holds a Pupil Personnel Services Credential (PPS) and a site-based social worker. The site-based social worker will have the expectation of holding a PPS credential and should have at a minimum an associate clinical social work credential. The differentiation between the two counselors is that our school-wide counselor is primarily responsible for academic counseling, which includes creating a six-year academic plan to ensure students are educated and prepared for A-G completion. Additionally, our school-wide counselor will service the basic needs of students. Our school-wide counselor will work actively with parents to support needs identified by students and parents. Our second counselor is intended to support more intensive needs. While our second counselor can play a support in serving the school-wide needs, this individual's primary focus is to support intensive needs as identified by students and parents. To work with the second counselor, consent by parents is required. At OCSCS we believe in involving our parents in all decisions related to their students, including academic and non-academic needs.

School testing, multiple measure assessment, as well as nonacademic data, including attendance, discipline, and climate survey results, are presented to the faculty on an annual basis and teachers are encouraged to utilize the data to strengthen their instruction. School performance data is also available to the community on the school website in the form of the School Accountability Report Cards (SARC). In addition, we will provide the California Department of Education data links. We recognize the need to use data to inform decisions that focus on all students achieving the academic standards. During weekly grade level meetings, teachers examine data in order to alter or adapt their curricula to address the critical academic needs of the students. The use and analysis of a competency-based assessment system has allowed for teachers to focus on specific student outcomes.

Administrators use data to inform curricular and school-wide decisions and activities. Teachers are supported to use this information to determine what the additional instructional needs are. In an effort to provide additional opportunities for more students to benefit from increased academic rigor, honors contracts will be offered for every student in every core academic course. Our school-wide counselor will support the administrative team and teachers in the development of honors contracts.

The Principal will

- Manage all affairs of the school consistent with OCSCS policies and procedures, including general control and supervision of certificated and classified staff hired at the school, including the selection of an assistant principal
- Designate specific responsibilities to the assistant principal
- Implement and evaluate curriculum and programs
- Facilitate staff innovations to improve instructional practices
- Supervise and evaluate performances of all hired personnel; recommend appropriate actions in cases of substandard performances; identify and encourage teachers with leadership potential

- Provide leadership and direction for the development and administration of an on-going program of staff development for certificated staff
- Direct the assignment of all pupils in such a way as to maximize their learning and growth
- Oversee pupil progress and ensure direct reports to parents
- Develop school plans and organizational procedures for the health, safety, discipline, and conduct of pupils
- Plan, supervise and direct the business operation of the school, including management of all assigned budgets
- Facilitate effective use of curriculum materials, instructional supplies, equipment, building facilities, and school grounds
- Direct a program of extracurricular activities for the pupils of the school
- Carry out a program of community relations as a means of interpreting and furthering the school program through parent and/or other community organizations
- Supervise and coordinate the services of resource teachers, resource specialists, tutors, counselors and/or curriculum consultants assigned to assist teachers in the instructional program
- Perform other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- Post graduate degree in education or related field
- Experience as a school administrator and a demonstrated record of effective administration and related instructional experience
- Minimum of a master's degree in curriculum, instruction, counseling and/or education leadership
- Effective communication skills
- Knowledge of research-based practices and professional development

Instructional Aides, Learning Facilitators, and Walk-on Coaches. Further, non-credentialed instructional aides will continue to be employed at OCSCS to support the service delivery model of IEPs and provide academic support for our inclusion model. Instructional aides are currently existing employees of PYLUSD and serve the same role as other instructional aides across PYLUSD.

As we grow, learning facilitators and walk-on coaches will service as instructional support for our elective programs. Learning facilitators are paraprofessionals who will specifically support our elective programs (Esports, Computer Science elective, and Computer Graphics), and will be added to help facilitate instruction delivered by the credentialed elective teachers in order to support student engagement and learning. Our walk-on coach model is intended to help support our physical education program. Before any of these individuals interact with students, they will be interviewed by OCSCS staff and obtain all necessary clearances for student contact (fingerprint clearance, TB clearance, completion of mandated reporting requirements training, etc.).

Professional Development Model: In terms of the delivery of professional development, OCSCS uses a three-part professional development model:

1:all. These whole faculty sessions are used to introduce initiatives, motivate and challenge staff, and to provide a sense of the larger community. These sessions set the tone for the year and remind us why we are public school educators. In addition, these whole faculty sessions provide the administration an opportunity to clarify expectations, acknowledge individuals who make a difference, and to focus on school-wide systems that support student behavior expectations and rewards as well as addressing needs such as accommodations and modifications for students with disabilities.

1:4. On a monthly basis, teachers attend a professional development session and meet in groups of 4 during sessions we call “coaching corners.” One of the four teachers has previously identified a specific content literacy strategy or instructional approach on which he or she will provide coaching. The topics range from creating anticipation guides to accommodations for students with disabilities to effective writing prompts. During the session, the coach provides a 10-minute overview of the strategy and how he or she uses it. Each of the four teachers then rehearses the strategy in front of their peers. We know that this rehearsal increases the likelihood that teachers will implement the strategy when they return to their classrooms.

1:1. The final component of our professional development plan involves teachers engaging in a small group PLC process with one another on an individual basis.

Additionally, we have structured professional development and learning into the teacher work day for Core Competency Teachers. Below is a sample schedule that is inclusive of aspects of the teacher professional work day on Tuesdays for English Language Arts, History, half of the Graphic Arts, and Spanish Literature teachers and on Wednesdays for Math, Science, half of the Graphic Arts, and Music teachers. Teachers will ultimately collaboratively build the yearly teacher work day schedule utilizing these tenets. Pending the needs of the school, professional development may be foregone for a week to allow for additional time for progress monitoring or organizational planning for Coordinated Small Group Instruction.

Element F: Health and Safety

OCSCS complies with all applicable safety laws. OCSCS requires each employee comply with fingerprinted Sections 44237 of the Education Code including the requirement, as a condition of employment, each employee (even those possessing a valid California Teaching Credential) must submit two sets of fingerprints to the California Department of Justice for the purpose of obtaining a criminal record summary.

OCSCS will annually develop a school safety plan, which includes the safety topics listed in Education Code section 32282, subdivision (a)(2)(A)-(J). (Ed. Code, § 47605, subd.

(c)(5)(F)(ii.) OCSCS will review and update the school safety plan by March 1 of every year. (Ed. Code, § 47605, subd. (c)(5)(F)(iii).)

In addition, OCSCS and PYLUSD complies with legal requirements for screening any contractor or service provider who has student contact or access at the school within the school day. OCSCS conducts initial and on-going tuberculosis screenings of employees as well as screenings of all adults who come in contact with students, as required by law. OCSCS provides CPR training for all site staff. In addition, all employees are provided in-service education on an annual basis related to child abuse prevention, mandated reporting of child abuse or neglect, workplace safety, disaster preparedness, administration of medication, and drug-free workplace policy. Mrs. Beth Fisher will ensure that employees are provided with this in-service education as well as professional development in school improvement, quality instruction, and culture building.

The school access rules and requirements are consistent with the law and state: No outsider shall enter or remain on school grounds during school hours without having registered with the principal or designee, except to proceed expeditiously to the office of the principal or designee for the purpose of registering. If signs posted in accordance with Section 627.6 restrict the entrance or route that outsiders may use to reach the office of the principal or designee, an outsider shall comply with such signs. (Penal Code sec.627).

OCSCS has health, safety, and risk management policies that will be developed in consultation with PYLUSD insurance carriers and risk management experts. In addition, OCSCS has processes for natural disaster drills and responses consistent with Education Code requirements.

OCSCS requires health screening of pupils' vision and hearing and the screening of pupils for scoliosis to the same extent as would be required if the pupils attended a traditional Public School [Ref. California Education Code 49451, 49452,49455]. Immunizations of students are a condition for attendance to the same extent as would apply if the student attended a non-charter public school. If the family of a student was e not able to provide the school proof of immunization at the time of registration, they will be referred to County Health or their private provider.

OCSCS is responsible for obtaining appropriate permits from the local public entity with jurisdiction of the issuance of such permits, including building permits, occupancy permits, fire/life safety inspections and conditional use permits, all as may be required to ensure a safe school and facilities for staff and students. The school will maintain on file and ready for inspection a copy of facilities inspections occurring after its initial occupancy.

As a District-affiliated charter school OCSCS will comply with all applicable District policies and procedures relating to suicide prevention and the requirements of Education Code section 215.

Element G: Non-Discrimination: Achieving Racial Balance

Consistent with the Ed Code 47601, OCSCS is committed to providing parents and pupils expanded choices in the types of educational opportunities that are available within the public school system. OCSCS will adopt and remain committed to inclusive, equal educational opportunity and non-discriminatory admission policies that comply with state and federal laws and requirements. OCSCS policies will be developed in consultation with the CA Charter Schools Association, reviewed by counsel and approved by the PYLUSD Board which shall ensure that attendance accounting records meet the standards prescribed in Education Code section 47612.5.

We expect OCSCS will serve a heterogeneous cross section of the local geography in which the school is positioned. This includes students who are both high and low achieving, as well as a proportionate number of students who are learning English as a second language, redesignated fluent English proficiency pupils, and those requiring special educational services. We do want applicants to understand the school's organization and computer science focus, and to accomplish this we will schedule a number of family orientation meetings each winter and spring. OCSCS will track and analyze records in order to meet its goal of serving a student body that reflects the diversity of Orange County's overall student population.

OCSCS will actively recruit a representative cross section of Orange County's student population at large and toward this goal, at a minimum, do the following as it strives to achieve a racial and ethnic balance of students that reflects the general population of Orange County:

- OCSCS staff will contact every PYLUSD elementary school administrator
- Elementary schools elsewhere in the County will also be contacted

Attempts will be made with each contact to: 1) have OCSCS staff present at parent meetings that are attended by sixth grade families; 2) have OCSCS participate and present at school functions designed to support matriculation activities and decisions; 3) provide registration and program information materials at these meetings. All information will be offered in English and Spanish and will also be prepared in any other language in which that school typically provides translation;

In addition, recruitment will occur at charter schools currently serving elementary students.

- Expect to expend at least 20 hours of staff time annually in community and regional outreach efforts, including presence at public meetings, to recruit applicants of diverse backgrounds. Outreach will extend to neighborhood organizations and associations and through local community and religious communities. All outreach sessions will be presented in English and Spanish.
- Expect to expend at least $500 annually on print and electronic materials to include media, flyers, and direct mail that serve to recruit applicants of diverse backgrounds.

OCSCS has a policy related to open enrollment periods. Adopted policy will include the following: OCSCS establishes an open enrollment period of at least 90 consecutive days each year beginning in late fall. Notice of the open enrollment period, the admissions process, and the system for any lottery will be included in public literature. This includes the appropriate recruitment materials, advertisements and forums mentioned above. These periods will be adjusted if the number and diversity of applicants is insufficient in comparison to the number of openings and the current make-up of the student body. OCSCS will maintain auditable records of the above activities and expenditures and also maintain an accurate accounting of the ethnic and racial balance of students enrolled. The OCSCS Advisory Council and annual school reports will regularly include that data.

Recruitment materials will include information about the school mission, programs and services. It will be provided in multiple languages with clear directions regarding how to access additional information. OCSCS will maintain auditable records of the above activities and expenditures and maintain an accurate accounting of the ethnic and racial balance of enrolled students enrolled in the School.

Element H: Student Admission Policies and Procedures

OCSCS endeavors to accommodate all students who seek enrollment. As stated in Education Code 47605, subd. (e) (1), all pupils who reside within the former attendance area of the former school will attend OCSCS should they desire. Should families within the former attendance area of the former school not want to attend OCSCS, families need to complete the choice transfer application process through PYLUSD.

After pupils within the attendance boundary have been enrolled, students from outside of the boundaries of the former school can be considered for admission through an application process. In the event that the number of applications from potential students exceeds the number of spaces available within a grade within the school, OCSCS conducts a random public lottery. Priority in the lottery is provided to:

1. Siblings of current students

2. Children of members of the Charter (children of employees and children of board members are limited to a combined total of no more than 10% of total school enrollment)
3. All other students permitted by law

The lottery will be designed to establish a diverse student population, adhere to state and federal laws and Public Charter Schools Grant Program (PCSGP) policy, use the following rules and procedures, and is communicated to all interested parties at least 30 days prior to holding the lottery:

- The school enlists the services of an outside agency to monitor and verify the fair execution of all activities related to holding the lottery.
- The lottery takes place within 30 days of closing the open enrollment period, which will be at least 90 days long.
- The lottery takes place on the school campus in a facility large enough to allow all interested parties to observe the drawing or at another public venue near the school large enough to accommodate all interested parties.
- The lottery takes place on a weekday evening, or when most of the interested parties that wish to attend may do so.
- The lottery will be a visible event. A simple computer based randomizer will be used to select names.
- All interested parties know prior to the lottery how many openings are available in the school and in the different grades served by the school.
- As space becomes available during a school year, the School mails a letter to the applicant with the highest rank on the applicable waiting list, return receipt required. The letter gives the applicant five full business days from receipt of the letter to notify the School Principal or clerk, verbally or in writing, of the applicant's intentions. The School also attempts at least twice to contact by phone those applicants with phones. In the absence of an affirmative or timely response, the School eliminates the applicant from the pool and proceeds to the next eligible applicant.
- All waiting lists extinguish annually at the end of the School's formal academic year, or as otherwise determined by the PYLUSD Board.
- OCSCS will certify that, to the best of its knowledge, all its admissions procedures, policies and criteria comply with non-discrimination statutes and applicable law. OCSCS shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless the District from any and all challenges alleging that the School's admission procedures do not comport with applicable laws.

As families enroll in OCSCS, the school will provide ample opportunities for engagement and equal opportunity access to enrollment in the school. The following will help guide policies and procedures related to admission:

- A parent or guardian must complete and return a simple, non-discriminatory application by a published deadline ending the open enrollment period.

- No child shall be denied admission to the school if a parent chooses not to participate in volunteer work at the school.
- Tuition will not be charged.
- Students will be considered for admission without regard to their religion, ethnicity, national origin, gender or sexual orientation, disability and/or prior student performance.
- OCSCS will comply with all laws establishing minimum and maximum age for public school attendance.
- Admission to the school shall be open to any pupil who wishes to attend
- Prospective students and their parents will be briefed and given a handbook regarding the school's instructional and operational philosophy, informed of all student-related policies, parent participation, expectations involving attendance, homework and school visits.

Applications for enrollment are accepted for a 90-day period in late fall and early winter each year. Applications received outside that period can be considered only if there is no grade level waiting list created by a lottery for those who applied during the open enrollment period.

Element I: Annual Financial Audit Processes and Required Budget Information

1. Required Budget Information

OCSCS has developed a sample five-year budget that supports the mission and goals proposed in this Charter (See Appendix D). The financial plan is intended to fulfill the terms of Education Code section 47605(h) and provide financial information about the charter school. This is an informational document and does not constitute a legally binding contract or agreement.

- OCSCS average daily attendance is projected to be 561 for the initial year (600 x 93.5% attendance)
- OCSCS is projecting to increase student enrollment to up to 1,000 students during the first five years
- OCSCS fiscal management will be the responsibility of the charter school and PYLUSD
- Individual line-item assumptions are shown in the five-year plan (See Appendix D)

As a District affiliated charter school, OCSCS' fiscal operations will be provided by PYLUSD. OCSCS shall adhere to all applicable District fiscal policies and procedures, including but not limited to policies and procedures related to budgeting, procurement, third party contracts, student body funds, student store, donations, fundraising, payroll, imprest funds, and payment approval for goods and services.

2. Financial Reporting (Including Audits)

As a District affiliated charter school, OCSCS will not provide for a separate audit but will be included in the annual audit for PYLUSD.

Element J: Discipline Including Suspensions/Expulsion Procedures

OCSCS will apply a positive and comprehensive discipline approach. How students behave is secondary to our rigorous educational program. All staff members will hold high expectations for all stakeholders within our community (students, parents, staff, and community members). OCSCS will apply a multi-tier system of support (MTSS) framework that has explicit behavioral expectations embedded. To support the achievement of a positive behavioral approach, our school will continue to utilize school-wide Positive Behavior Interventions and Support (PBIS). OCSCS values positive interactions among all stakeholders. Below are some examples we have expressly outlined below through a behavioral matrix:

		FROM LEARNERS TO LEADERS
	ENTERING & EXITING CAMPUS	LEARNING SPACES & INSIDE BUILDINGS	LUNCH LINES & LUNCH TABLES	BLACKTOP & ACTIVITIES	RESTROOMS

At OCSCS, it is expected that students treat each other, the faculty and staff, administration, and every adult, with respect, courtesy and cooperation. Further, OCSCS teachers will treat one another, the students and their families, and the administration in a courteous fashion. Consequences for engaging in discourteous behavior may include restoring the environment, meetings with staff or administrators, the development and implementation of a behavioral contract, removal of privileges, or further disciplinary action.

OCSCS shall provide due process for all students, including adequate and timely notice to parents/guardians and students of the grounds for all suspension and expulsion recommendations and decisions and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights of appeal.

(i) For suspensions of fewer than 10 days, OCSCS will provide oral or written notice of the charges against the pupil and, if the pupil denies the charges, an explanation of the evidence that supports the charges and an opportunity for the pupil to present the pupil's side of the story.

(ii) For suspension of 10 days or more and all other expulsions for disciplinary reasons, both of the following:

- Provide timely, written notice of the charges against the pupil and an explanation of the pupil's basic rights.
- Provide a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer within a reasonable number of days at which the pupil has a fair opportunity to present testimony, evidence, and witnesses and confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and at which the pupil has the right to bring legal counsel or an advocate.

OCSCS acknowledges that the District's Student Discipline and Expulsion process runs through the District and they will be the ones to provide technical assistance to OCSCS considering recommendations for expulsion, ensures that students recommended for expulsion are afforded a fair and impartial hearing and all other due process rights, and provides for post-expulsion placement/rehabilitation plans and services as required by law.

A foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker and an Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker shall have the same rights a parent or guardian of a child has to receive a suspension notice, expulsion notice, manifestation determination notice, involuntary transfer notice, and other documents and related information.

No pupil shall be involuntarily removed by OCSCS for any reason unless the parent or guardian has been provided written notice of intent to remove the pupil no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the pupil or the pupil's parent or guardian, or, if the pupil is a homeless child or youth, or a foster child or youth, in the native language of the homeless or foster child’s educational rights holder. In the case of a foster child or youth, the written notice shall also be provided to the foster child’s attorney and county social worker. If the pupil is an Indian child, as defined in Section 224.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the written notice shall also be provided to the Indian child’s tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker. The written notice shall inform the pupil, the pupil's parent or guardian, the homeless child’s educational rights holder, the foster child’s educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker, or the Indian child’s tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker of the right to initiate the procedures specified in clause (ii) before the effective date of the action. If the pupil’s parent or guardian, the homeless child’s educational rights holder, the foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, or county social worker, or the Indian child’s tribal social worker or, if applicable, county social worker initiates the procedures specified in clause (ii), the pupil shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until OSCSC issues a final decision. For purposes of this clause, “involuntarily removed” includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions specified in clauses (i) and (ii).

As a school affiliated with PYLUSD, OCSCS follows the middle school code of conduct (See Appendix B).

Element K: Benefits and Compensation

District employees working at or assigned to OCSCS will continue to receive compensation and benefits for their services according to the provisions of the collective bargaining agreements of their respective bargaining units with PYLUSD. This includes but is not limited to provisions related to salaries, unemployment benefits, retirement systems and benefits (including CalSTRS and CalPERS), health insurance, life insurance, all other assigned compensation and benefits.

As PYLUSD employees, OCSCS’ administrators, faculty and staff will receive all appropriate benefits in compliance with state and federal laws regarding employee benefits. The District will be responsible for all the following:

PYLUSD Middle School Student Behavior Expectations and Code of Conduct

Goal & Purpose

A goal of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District is to assist each student to become productive and an effective citizen in our democratic society. We are confident that the vast majority of students will work toward this goal by respecting the rights of others, respecting personal and school property, and by practicing acceptable patterns of behavior and courtesy.

The purpose of the Code of Conduct is to ensure a safe and orderly educational climate conducive to learning. Students are expected to demonstrate responsible behavior that does not interfere with the safety, well-being, or educational opportunities for themselves or others.

In an effort to support the positive actions of the vast majority of students, disciplinary action will result when students fail to conduct themselves in an acceptable manner. A student may be disciplined for acts that are related to school activities which occur at any time including, but not limited to, any of the following:

- While on the grounds of any PYLUSD campus
- While going to or coming from home to school
- Off campus during school hours
- During, or while going to or coming from, a school sponsored activity

SEARCH AND SEIZURE

In an ongoing effort to maintain a safe and secure campus, the law provides school officials with the right to search students, their possessions, and their automobiles when they have a “reasonable suspicion” that a student may be in possession of contraband or dangerous objects. Reasonable suspicion may also warrant school officials’ use of a metal detector or a breathalyzer. We expect all students to be cooperative as the school official(s) will make every attempt to be unobtrusive and respectful of privacy. Failure to cooperate in a search may result in contact with parents/law enforcement and additional disciplinary action. Students should be aware that grounds for suspicion commonly includes being “out-of-bounds” without permission or a report by another student, parent, or staff member of possession of contraband or dangerous objects. Students should also be aware that they will be held responsible for any contraband or dangerous objects found in their possession as it will be considered their property. If a student should discover contraband or dangerous objects on campus, he or she should go directly to the Assistant Principal or other staff member and report it without delay. (Education Code 49050)

ATTENDANCE PROCEDURES

If a student is absent one or more days, the student must clear the absence in one of the following ways:

1. It is highly recommended that parents call the school the same day of the absence. The parent/guardian should call in every day of a student’s absence. If possible, please provide the student’s ID number. A note is required when a student returns to school if the parent/guardian has not called in.
2. If the student does not have a verified excuse, either a call by a parent or a written excuse signed by a parent, the student may have to take a temporary truancy. The student will have 48 hours to clear the temporary truancy before it becomes a permanent truancy.

According to EC Section 48205, a student can be excused from school when the absence is:

If the duration of absence will be greater than four weeks and is due to illness, parents should contact the Counseling Office to request a home hospital teacher.

MAKE UP WORK

Pupils shall be given the opportunity to make up schoolwork missed because of an excused absence and to receive full credit when the work is turned in according to a reasonable make-up schedule. Participation in athletics and approved activities will be considered as approved absences. Generally, students should be allowed the same length of time as the length of the excused absence to make up missed homework. The student should make arrangements with the teacher to make up missed exams immediately upon the student’s return to school. Where work is difficult to make up when labs or group activities are involved, teachers should, when possible, try to assign alternative kinds of assignments in these situations. Education Code 48205

For planned absences, the student must have a note signed by a parent. In the event of a personal or family emergency, the counseling or attendance office must get approval from a parent, or his/her designee, before the student may leave the campus. Please remember that phone calls for parent pick-up may delay the release of the student due to unforeseen circumstances. If the student leaves without an Off-Campus Pass, the student will be truant and will not be allowed to clear the truancy. Off-Campus Passes will be issued (except for emergency reasons) before school, during break, and at lunch from the Attendance Office.

Notes or phone calls for Off-Campus passes are not accepted from 11:45 a.m. - 12:15 p.m. due to the high volume of activity in the attendance office immediately prior to lunch time.
